Price and Quantity

The next chart shows monthly movement in export volumes - the blue shaded area of the chart - and in average prices on an FOB basis. Export volumes increased sharply towards the end of 2020, again in March and April 2021 and more so in the middle of 2022 when volumes were more than 140,000 per month. Average prices have been between $US 370 and $US 400 a unit since 2017 but in January 2020 increased to above $US400 a unit.

The excel file enables the user to select a supply country and then redraw this Price&Quantity chart to only include exports to the selected country. The chart below lists Price and Quantity where exports only to Australia are selected. Export volumes to Australia are stable on a trend basis around 20,000 units a month. However, export volumes declined substantially late in 2021 and then recovered in the second quarter of 2022. Average prices to Australia have declined slowly over time and are under $US 300 since the middle of 2018. Averages have fallen again to around $US 270 per unit in the middle of 2022.
