Price and Quantity

The next chart shows monthly movement in exports volumes - the blue shaded area of the chart - and in average prices. The red line shows average prices without Transport and Insurance Costs (FOB values). The chart shows exports to be highly seasonal as expected for a fresh perishable product. The peak export season is in the middle of each year and the low seasons end/start of the year. Export volumes declined somewhat in 2022.

The excel file enables the user to select a particular destination country and then redraws this Price&Quantity chart only including exports to the selected country. The chart below lists Price and Quantity where export only to Hong Kong is selected. These exports are at a fairly steady price just above $AUD 1,000 per tonne and increased strongly in 2021.

Average Prices – Top Six Supply Countries over Time

The following chart list average prices over time for the Top 6 destination countries for Australian exports. Exports to China and the USA are at well above average prices between $AUD 1,500 and $AUD 2,000 per tonne. Exports to Hong Kong are at below average prices.
